The Arxalma Song

WORDS BY
Mildred E. Runyeon

MUSIC BY
Luther W. Goodhart

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of four systems of music, each with a vocal line (treble clef) and a piano accompaniment line (bass clef). The key signature has three flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat), and the time signature is common time (C). The score includes various musical notations such as dynamics (f, p, mf), articulation marks (accents, slurs), and phrasing slurs. The lyrics are printed below the vocal line.

System 1:

Foursquare her towers rise, Arx al ma fair!
 Ever her care shall be To keep us true,
 All down the years to come, Reverent we'll bel

System 2:

Wide-spread her beauty lies, Arx al ma rare!
 Up right, as pining, With fer vor due,
 Turning our hearts and steps Home ward to thee,

System 3:

Sheltered be neath her walls She keeps her own
 Crowning our visions all Skyward doth gleam
 And though our west ward ways May lead us far,

System 4:

Children of liber ty, We call her home.
 Our shining cita del, Strong and se rene.
 We'll keep Arx al ma pure, Our guid ing star.

Dr. Ralph C. Geigle

Character . . . Leadership . . . Foresight

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Pottsville Area School District on September 26, 1973, it was unanimously decided that this year's traditional Pottsville-Reading football game be dedicated in honor of Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, Superintendent of Schools of Reading.

Fellow administrators of Reading High School who retired with Dr. Ralph C. Geigle were Mr. William C. Horine, vice-principal; and Mr. Roland P. Kyle, principal.

One of the superintendent's most gratifying experiences was teaching Russian classes.

Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, Superintendent of Reading Schools, discusses the details of yearbook engineering with Mr. Bertolet M. Bossler, yearbook consultant at Reading High School.

Dr. Ralph C. Geigle congratulates Coach James Gano for the honor and glory which he and his championship basketball teams brought to Reading High School.

Perseverance . . . Service

Serving as official speaker at the dedication ceremonies of the new school Annex on Sunday, March 3, 1974, was Dr. Ralph C. Geigle who gave a vivid account of the great educational strides which the Reading School District made during the past two decades.

In recognition of Dr. Ralph C. Geigle's great accomplishments during his superintendency, the Board of Education of the Reading School District passed the following resolution:

Resolution

WHEREAS, Dr. Ralph C. Geigle has been the Superintendent of the Reading School District since 1956 until the present time; and

WHEREAS, during the superintendency of Dr. Geigle the Reading School District has entered upon and completed a long range building program which has given the Reading School District one of the most modern educational plants in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, including the construction of the present Administration Building, the Special Education Center, The Elementary Schools, at Lauer's Park, 12th and Marion Streets, 10th and Green Streets, 13th and Green Streets, and 16th and Haak Streets, the construction of additions to the Elementary Schools at 13th and Union Streets, Glenside, and the Thomas H. Ford and Lauer's Park Schools, the construction of the Northwest Area Elementary Center, the Reading-Muhlenberg Vocational Technical School, the Reading High School Classroom Addition, Physical Education Complex and City Food Service Center, and the construction of a planetarium and the remodeling of all other buildings in the School District; and

WHEREAS, during the superintendency of Dr. Geigle the Reading School District has accomplished the following achievements:

Increased effectiveness of professional staff by constant reduction of pupil-teacher ratio.

Developed democratic involvement of administrators, teachers, parents and students in total community participation in education. Developed liaison committees and human relations councils.

Instituted a program of racial integration of the professional staff.

Involved Reading in early participation in state and federal projects to enrich the curriculum and thereby saved millions of dollars for Reading's taxpayers.

Instituted programs to combat the dropout problem and to assist under-motivated students and slow learners. Dropout rates cut by nearly 50 percent.

Established the second practical nurse training program in the state which has enabled hundreds of adults to secure employment. Graduates now number approximately 1,000 with 92 percent employed.

Challenged insufficient state subsidies, thereby bringing educational reimbursement funds to Reading.

Created English as a Second Language (ESL) program to provide for needs of the community's Puerto Rican children. Now serves as model pattern for state and nation.

Instituted Foreign Language in the Elementary School (FLES) program for German and expanded it for the 1973-1974 school year to include Spanish.

Guided the development of a discipline code for the city schools and the establishment of the Reading Advancement Program (RAP) to aid pupils having difficulty in classroom situations.

Instituted programs in the elementary grade for home economics and industrial arts.

Established one of the state's first elementary guidance programs.

Instituted in-service courses for teachers with salary credit.

Developed pilot programs in reading, advanced mathematics and instruction for the gifted as well as the handicapped.

Established special art classes for students through the Reading Public Museum and Art Gallery.

Developed an elementary program of full professional specialized instruction in art, music, physical education and library services which puts Reading in vanguard of state.

Gave impetus to a tremendous growth in the field of audio-visual education which led to Reading's citation as one of the 20 finest programs in the state.

Fostered advanced placement programs with high school seniors receiving college credit for their work.

Encouraged adult education so that enrollment rose to 1,800 adults.

Initiated plans for development of the Reading Area Community College.

Solved 10th grade problem by completing transfer to Reading High School after 36 years of separation; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Geigle has submitted his resignation as Superintendent of the Reading School District to this Board, to be effective June 30, 1974;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of School Directors of the Reading School District hereby accepts the resignation of Dr. Ralph C. Geigle as Superintendent of the Reading School District effective June 30, 1974, with tremendous pride in the accomplishments of the Reading School District during Dr. Geigle's superintendency and with all best wishes to Dr. Ralph C. Geigle in his future endeavors.

Mr. Roland P. Kyle

Teacher . . . Department Chairman . . . Vice Principal . . . Principal

With his retirement effective as of June 15, 1974, Mr. Roland P. Kyle brought his colorful professional career of thirty-nine years to a close. During this span of time, he held various positions in educational, athletic, and administrative fields.

His initial educational experiences from 1931-1942 took place at the Mohnton High School, where over a period of eleven years, he served as teacher, coach, and vice-principal, respectively.

From 1942 to 1946, he was a commander in the United States Naval Reserve.

Shortly after his military service, he returned to the teaching profession as a health teacher at Northeast Junior High School. He remained here for a period of five years.

After this position, he was transferred to Reading Senior High School, where he taught health and physical education for seven years. In 1958, he was appointed as one of the vice principals of Reading High School. Two years later, he was named principal of the high school, a post which he held for the last fourteen years.

Outstanding coaching, literary, and community rewards which he received over the past eighteen years were a twenty-five year coaching award from the Berks County Officials Association, and a service award from the United Community Service of Berks County. In addition, the Pennsylvania School Board Commission granted him an award of merit, and in 1972, he was selected to be included in the publication "Leaders of Secondary Education". Dedicated in his honor was the Reading High School Roland P. Kyle Chapter of the International Quill and Scroll Society. He was also given awards for outstanding service in the United States Naval Reserve.

During the period that Mr. Roland P. Kyle served as principal, the total school curriculum was enriched and expanded, and major renovations were made to modernize the business education, shop, library, and science facilities. In addition, the new educational annex finally became a reality.

His administrative leadership, perseverance, and continuous faithful service contributed much to the prominent educational position which Reading High School still possesses in a challenging and ever-changing world.

School Administration

Mr. William C. Horine . . . Teacher . . . Coach . . . Vice-Principal

Mr. William C. Horine
Vice Principal

After his fourteen years at the junior high school level, he began a colorful career at Reading High School. From 1950 to 1964 at the Castle, he served as mathematics teacher, assistant football coach, assistant basketball coach and also head basketball coach. In 1964, he was elected to the administrative post of vice principal of Reading High School, a position which he held to the time of his retirement at the end of the 1973-74 school term.

Long will we, the faculty, students, and community, remember his untiring efforts, dedication to duty, and services in all of his educational endeavors.

In his forty years in the field of education, Mr. William C. Horine served the Reading School District as teacher, coach, and administrator.

From 1934 to 1943, he was a mathematics teacher and assistant basketball coach at Northwest Junior High School. During the years 1943-1945, he acted as physical education instructor in the United States Navy. At the end of World War II, he returned to Northwest Junior High School, and again fulfilled a dual role as teacher and head football coach.

Perseverance, foresight, and dynamic action of the Board of Education of the Reading School District made it possible for the school district's outstanding educational strides this past year.

For the most part, the areas of special interest to the Reading High School students and faculty, and to the citizens of the community this past school term were the Board of Education's approval and support of matters pertaining to curriculum enrichment and the great expansion of educational facilities. To meet the increasing and everchanging needs of the modern youth of today, the Board of Education made provisions for the introduction of, and in other cases, the expansion of the mini-courses in the various curricula. Modernization of facilities was brought about as a result of the extensive renovations of the science rooms, and the transformation of the old students' cafeteria into a modern multi-purpose media center which now includes a new large library, a television studio with the necessary facilities and equipment, and a new audio-visual-thermo department. Official opening of the new library took place on Thursday, March 14, 1974.

Foremost of the specific educational progress this past school term was the completion and use of the new athletic-classroom annex.

Throughout the year, the Board of Education of the Reading School District also approved and supported many other important measures too numerous to mention, but which were definitely essential to the success of the total school program.

As a result of the Board of Education's continuous efforts and sincere action, the citizens of the community can always be assured that the public school system of the City of Reading will always be as comprehensive and flexible as necessary to meet the diversified needs of modern day youth, and the educational demands of the community.

Mrs. Luke F. Chelius, President of the Board of Education of the Reading School District, officially announced the name of the new high school annex as the Dr. Ralph C. Geigle Educational Complex during the dedication ceremonies of the new building on Sunday, March 3, 1974.

Guidance Department

Department Head—Mr. Joseph E. Haage

Services in this department were given on personal and group bases. Personal attention was given to students in reference to curriculum and subject selection, vocational planning, social adjustment, and homebound instruction. Group services were chiefly provided over the public address system and through guidance assemblies.

Personnel changes in the department included the naming of Mrs. Mabel J. Davis, a former business education teacher, to the position of third vice principal of Reading High School. She began her new administrative role as of September 27, 1973. Other changes involved the transfer of Mr. Mark J. Braun from the school-adjustment department to the guidance department. Newly-added to the staff on January 2, 1974 was Mrs. Norma Jean Rogers. Previously, she served in the same position at the Phoenixville Vocational-Technical School.

English Department

Department Head—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

Outstanding individual achievements and preliminary plans for curriculum enrichment constituted the highlights in the English department this past year.

Individually, Susan Strauss placed first in the statewide American Legion Essay Contest, Lidia Hladun took first place honors in the first Charles W. Anderson Essay Contest, and Sandra Weidner was one of three winners in the Pennsylvania School Press Association writing contest.

As a result of Susan DeLong capturing top honors and gaining the National Council of Teachers Achievements award, the English department received its sixth citation for excellence from the National Council of Teachers of English.

In addition, Mr. Bertolet M. Bossler of the instructional staff was named teacher of the year by the Reading Chamber of Commerce.

Mathematics Department

Department Head—Mr. Carl E. Boltz

Curriculum changes initiated in the department this year were the addition of a general math course, and the introduction of a Probabilities and Statistics class for next year.

Four math students earned top recognition in two mathematics contests. In competition with forty-seven seniors in the Annual Berks County Mathematics Tournament, Howard Youngerman placed first, Amy Rudolph, fourth; and Frederick Graupp, eighth. Shortly thereafter, in the Annual National Mathematics Contest in which thirty-nine schools representing Berks, Lebanon, Dauphin, Lancaster, and York counties took part, Reading was third in team competition. Individually, Howard Youngerman was sixth, Glenn Zerbe, nineteenth; and Amy Rudolph, twenty-second.

Early in the school year, members of the staff were shown the most recent additions to the department's instructional aids.

Social Studies Department

Department Head

Mr. Anthony P. Stopper

Many new facilities, including a modern Individual Preparation Center and an increased number of classrooms, were made available to this department upon the utilization of the Annex. Social studies instructors assigned to the auxiliary wing were Mr. Joseph C. Geesey, Mr. John W. Hartung, Mr. Roger N. Mory, Mr. Ronald L. Spickler, and Mr. Anthony P. Stopper.

As part of the community involvement program, two local lawyers spoke to the twelfth grade Problems of Democracy classes. Attorney Melvin Heller and Attorney Arthur E. Grim discussed the ways in which law affects high school students.

For outstanding contributions to the field of scholastic sport, Mr. Anthony P. Stopper was named to the West Branch of the Pennsylvania Football Hall of Fame.

Foreign Language Department

Department Head—Mrs. Louise E. Dreisbach

For a period of thirteen consecutive years, Reading High School had offered five languages for student study: French, Spanish, Latin, German, and Russian, which was most recently added to the curriculum. Basic and advanced classes were held in all languages except Russian.

Extra-curricular activities sponsored by teachers from this department were the German and Russian clubs. Cultural and social projects helped participating students to develop a wider perspective and appreciation of the respective languages.

Enrichment of the language program was made possible by the acquisition of a wireless language laboratory.

Early in the year, Mrs. Louise E. Dreisbach and members of her department discuss the unique methods emphasized in using the newly-acquired foreign language materials.

Seated—Mrs. Theana K. Sheetz, Mrs. Elaine Ott, Miss Linda Stolz; Standing—Mr. Salvatore P. Orlando, Mr. Otto W. Voit, Jr., Mr. Edward Becker, Miss Deborah Beckey, student teacher, Mrs. Louise E. Dreisbach, department head. Absent—Mrs. Betty O. Hand, Mrs. Sara S. Achenbach.

Wide use of the new, portable language laboratory helped students learn their respective languages more effectively.

Business Education Department

Department Head—

Mr. William S. Whiteley

Business Education involved training and work experience in three major areas of study, namely in the clerical, bookkeeping, and the secretarial-curricula.

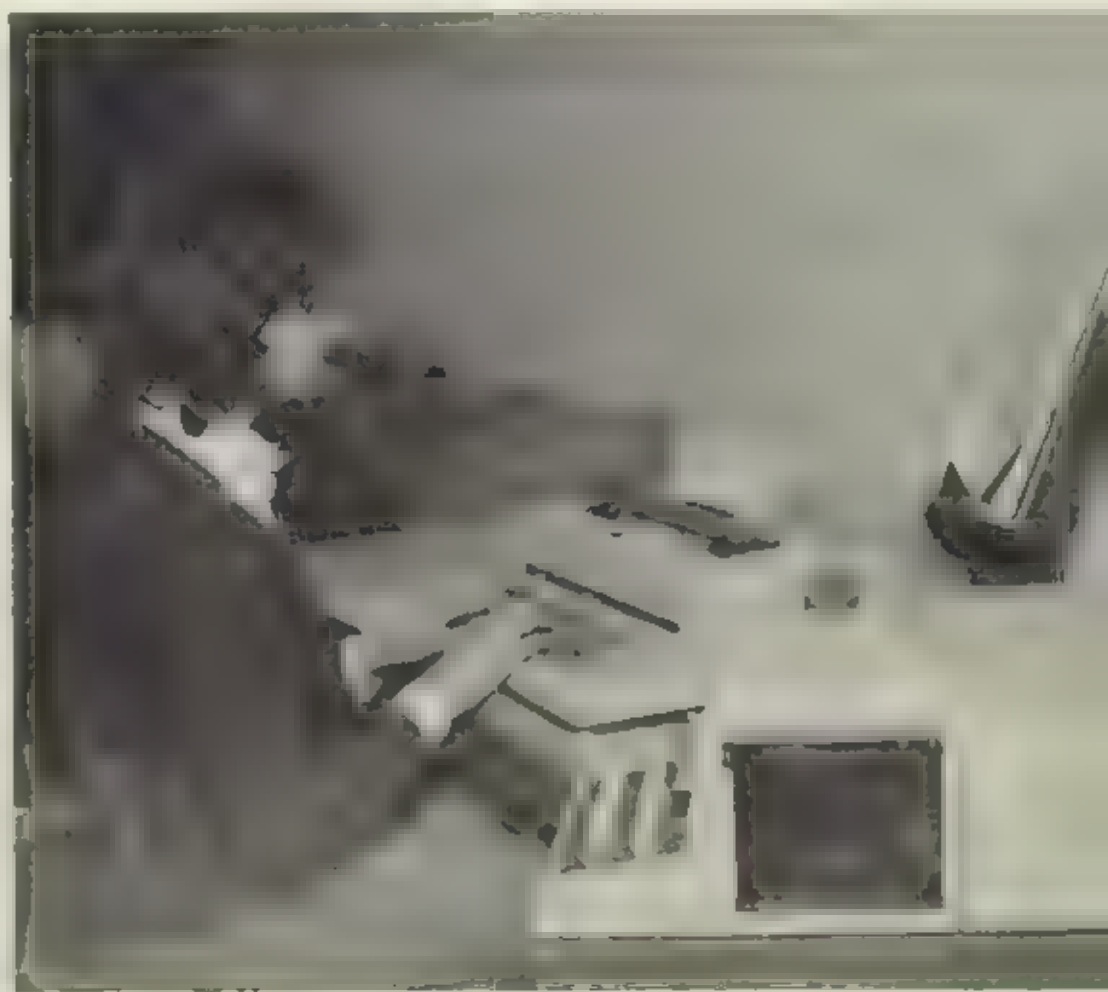

Modernization of business equipment continued to be one of the dynamic policies of this department. This was especially evident this past year as a result of the acquisition of four special office machines, namely a stenography lab with console, an accounting machine, the Copier and Master Transparency Maker, the Magnetic Tape Selective Type, and an electric cash register.

In an effort to give each business education student a wider perspective of the ever-changing demands of the modern business world, a new work-study program was introduced effective with the present tenth grade business students.

Industrial Education Department

Reading High School

Department Head—Mr. William I. Haney

At Reading High School this past year, the industrial arts curriculum provided countless opportunities for students to gain many fundamental experiences and basic industrial concepts in five specific areas, namely graphic communications, wood working, metal working, power technology and drafting.

Basically, the fundamental industrial arts programs involved a half year of two of the above areas, and are a prerequisite to advanced courses in each area. Industrial arts encompassed reading, research, observation, experimentation, recording, problem solving, discussion, appreciation, and human relationships.

As a result of the great diversity of the industrial arts program at the Castle, more students were able to experiment in many different industrial activities, and become aware of the basic concepts, therefore preventing them from an early role commitment. There were more students this year than ever before taking more than one industrial arts subject allowing each individual a means of future occupational program selection centered on the student's interest and ability.

Music Department

Choral Instructor—Mr. Charles W. Lutz

Instrumental Instructor—

Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

Choral performances for the school and the community were given by A Cappella Choir, Mixed Chorus, Girls' Glee Club, and a special madrigal group known as Lords and Ladies.

In the instrumental field, Reading High School's Marching Band and the Auxiliary Units earned international recognition by outstanding achievement in the International Canada Blossom Festival. In competition with approximately eighty-five bands of which fifty were of the same category, the Reading delegation earned three first place awards: first place best band in our category, first place best band front in the entire parade, and first place as having the highest number of points of any band of the parade.

During the year, Mr. Charles W. Lutz, choral instructor, utilized various audio-visual aides to supplement his regular choral instruction.

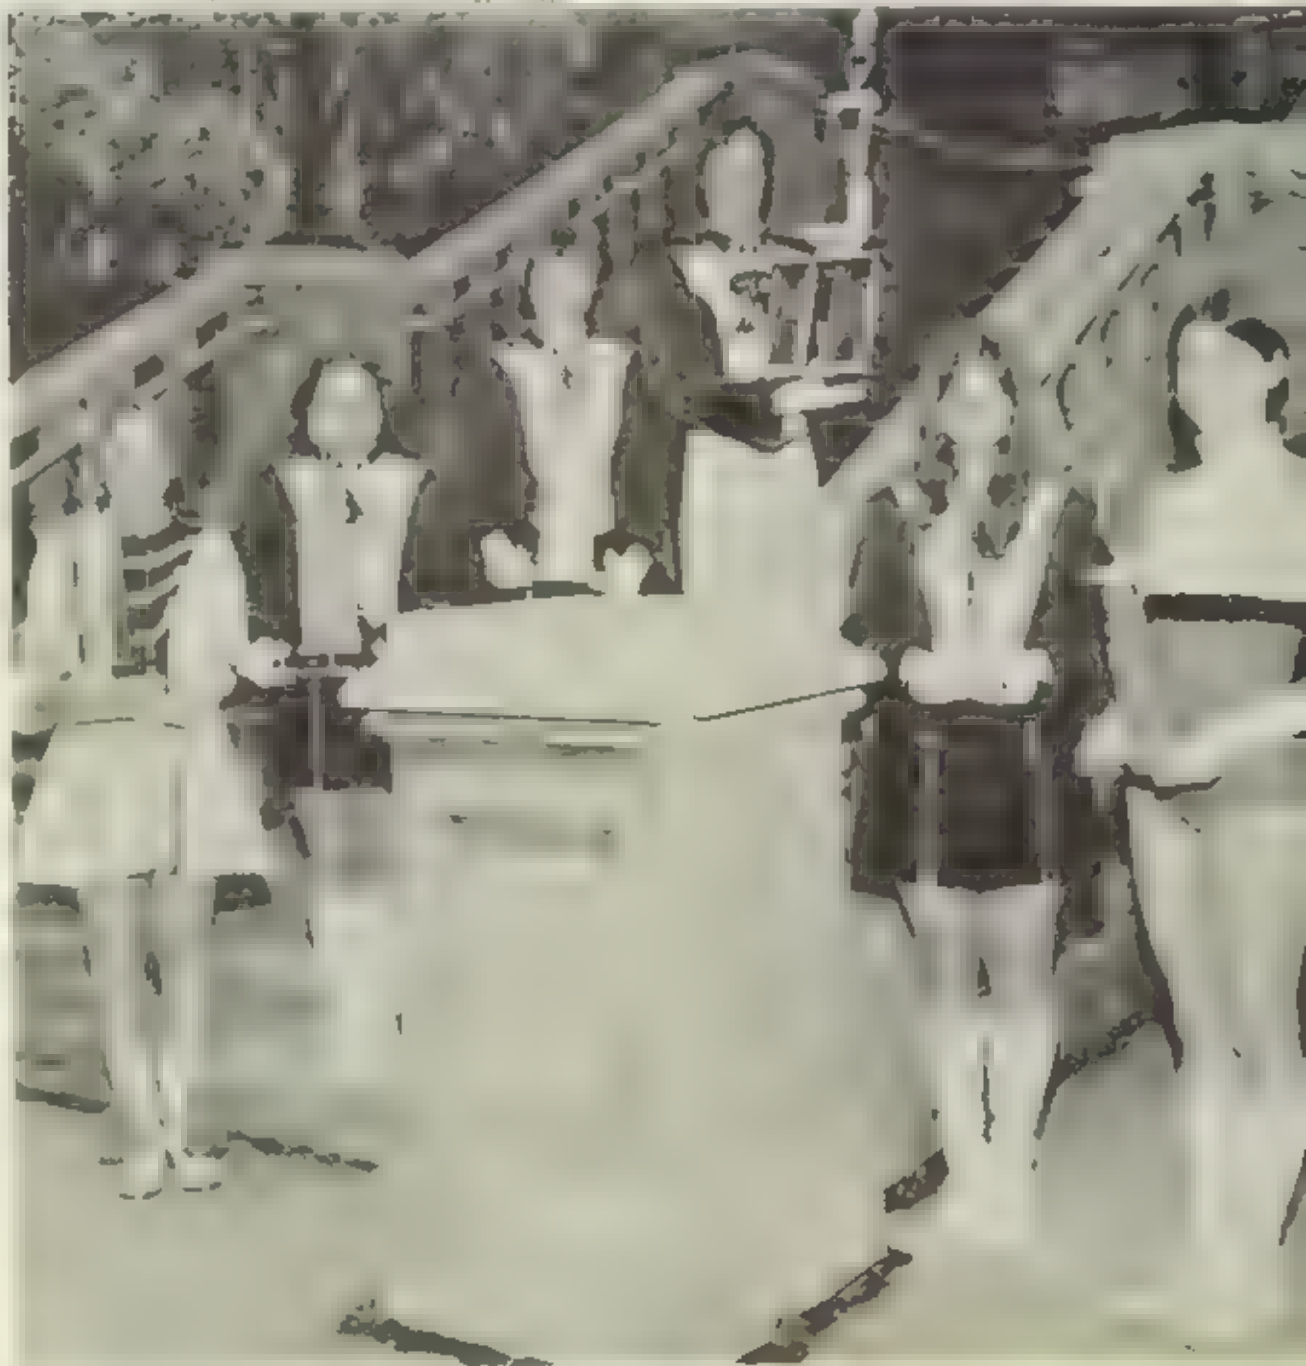

Unit leaders proudly display trophies earned in recent competition including those acquired at the International Canada Blossom Festival.

Carol Barth, Guide-Ons Captain; Diane Kautz, Color Guard Captain; Vicki Beck, Twirling Flags Captain; Joseph Rauen, Drum Major; Joanne Melcher, Rifle Squad Captain; Ellen Keeler, Majorette Captain

At the beginning of the year, Mr. Donald Reber, Director of Music for the Reading School District, and the Reading High School music teachers examined the newly-constructed trophy case made for the department.

Health Department

Department Chairman—

Mr. Harrison H. Stump

Changes in the health program this past year consisted of the twelfth grade having two periods a week instead of one, and no health classes in the tenth grade. In view of the new program, a more comprehensive study in health was offered in the twelfth grade, especially in the fields of first aid, civil defense, and other timely topics.

Not affected by this policy was the eleventh grade program which consisted of Safety Education and an optional Driver Training program.

At the first staff meeting, members of the health department were informed of the respective class enrollment and other pertinent department information from Mr. Harrison H. Stump, department chairman

Seated—Mr. Robert L. Tyson, Miss Cynthia A. Stout, Mr. Brian Cashman, Miss Patricia Enzman, Mr. Harrison H. Stump, department chairman; Standing—Miss Billie Dawn Snyder, Mr. Marshall D. Wagner, Mrs. Rita P. Burkey, Mr. Jack C. Prutzman

Theory as well as practical experience was stressed in the twelfth grade First Aid program.

Health Services Department

Nurses—Mrs. Maxine Ernesto, R.N.

Mrs. JoAnn Gutshall, R.N.

Mrs. Ruth Heist, R.N.

School Doctor—Dr. Lynwood V. Keller, M.D.

Personnel in this department was increased to three members. This was necessary to conform with a school district regulation which required a nurse to be in the new athletic complex at all times while sports activities were in progress.

In addition, this department sponsored a Health Careers Club as an extra-curricular activity. By active participation in the club's programs and visitations to local hospitals, students gained a wider perspective of the careers in the medical profession. Highlighting the club's projects was a special field trip to Philadelphia. Here the students visited the Smith Kline and French Pharmaceutical Laboratories and the School of the Deaf.

At the beginning of the school year, Mrs. Maxine Ernesto and Mrs. Ruth Heist helped the new nurse to become acquainted with nursing procedures at the Castle.

Seated—Mrs. Maxine Ernesto, R.N.; Standing—Mrs. Ruth Heist, R.N., Mrs. JoAnn Gutshall, R.N.

Students who did not have physical examinations performed by their private physicians could receive this service from Dr. Lynwood V. Keller, M.D., the school physician.

Edward Groth, eleventh grade student; Dr. Lynwood V. Keller, M.D.

One of the many services offered through this department was the tuberculosis test for both teachers and students.

Standing—Mr. Carl E. Boltz, teacher; Seated—Dr. Edward A. Agnew, M.D.

Physical Education Department

Department Chairman—Mr. Harrison H. Stump

As a result of the new physical education facilities in the recently-built annex, and additional equipment acquired this past year, it was possible to expand and offer a wider range of athletic activities to the student body.

Official use of the annex for physical education classes began on Monday, November 26, 1973, and for the swimming pool, Monday, January 28, 1974.

Highlighting the curriculum enrichment was the student choice innovation whereby students were able to select various athletic activities on a rotating schedule

Individual as well as group athletic activities were emphasized in the girls' and boys' physical education programs.

Background—Scott Scharfel; Foreground—Brooke Werner

As the school year progressed, the co-ed physical education classes became increasingly more popular among Castle students.

At the beginning of the school year, Mr. Harrison H. Stump, department chairman, used the master charts to explain the respective teaching assignments to the members of his staff.

Seated—Miss Billie Dawn Snyder, Mrs. Rita P. Burkey, Mr. Harrison H. Stump, department chairman, Miss Cynthia A. Stout, Miss Patricia Enzman; Standing—Mr. Robert L. Tyson, Mr. Brian Cashman, Mr. Marshall J. Wagner, Mr. Jack C. Prutzman; Absent—Mr. James Capousis, Co-ordinator of the Reading High School swimming pool; Mr. Katharine E. Kaufmann, Director of Physical Education for the Reading School District

Safety Education Department

*Instructors—*Mr. Gary Collier

Mr. James A. Ervin

Mr. James H. Gano

Mr. Bernard Kaplan

Mr. George A. Pappas

Basically, this curriculum emphasized the importance of pedestrian and automobile safety. Optional in this program was a driver training course whereby students could gain instruction and practical experience in preparing for the state driving test.

Offered for the first time this past summer, was a "behind the wheel" driver training course. This was made available to meet the demand of those students, who, because of the limitations of the existing program could not get the necessary experience during the regular school year.

Five certified driving instructors and three driver training cars were available to students who selected the optional course

Mr. Bernard Kaplan, Mr. George A. Pappas, Mr. James H. Gano, Mr. James A. Ervin
*Absent—*Mr. Gary Collier

In addition to group instruction, the driver training teachers gave individual help as needed.

Leonardo Gonzalez, Cheryl Sartori, Mr. Bernard Kaplan, instructor; Janet Wawrzonek, Cliff Becker

One of the important phases of the driver training program was to help trainees learn car care and operation.

Library Department

Head Librarian—Mrs. Eleanor B. Printz

Librarian—Mrs. Jean R. Weiser

Library Secretary—Mrs. Nancy L. Taylor

Reading High School's modern library constituted the major part of the new instructional media center located in what was formerly the student cafeteria. Special features of the library include individual study carrels, conference rooms, and a faculty library. In addition to the well-equipped library and its modern facilities, the over-all area has a television studio, and the school's audio-visual department.

Official opening of the new library took place on Thursday, March 14, 1974.

Efficient operation of the new library was assured as a result of the capable supervision provided by the two librarians and library secretary.

Mrs. Jean R. Weiser, Librarian; Mrs. Eleanor B. Printz, head Librarian; Mrs. Nancy L. Taylor, library secretary

Student librarians rendered valuable services at the circulation desk and, as needed, personal attention to student requests.

Forgerund—Bonita Walker, Irving Crawl, Doreen Buchel

Pleasant surroundings in the new library provided the proper atmosphere for study.

Nancy Schucker

Library Department

Head Librarian—Mrs. Eleanor B. Printz

Librarian—Mrs. Jean R. Weise

Library Secretary—Mrs. Nancy L. Taylor

Throughout each school day, Castle students made great use of the new library and its modern facilities

Up-to-date library materials were always available for students reports and research papers

Kathleen Metz, David Rakowiecki

Reading High School's library offered a wide range of books which appealed to the students' varied interests.

Home Economics Department

Department Chairman

Mrs. Hannah M. Ori

As the result of the recent increased nation-wide interest in more effective means in consumer buying, the consumer approach was stressed in greater detail in the various phases of the home economics curriculum.

Expansion of the personnel in this department from four to five instructors this past year was necessary, because of the additional tenth grade junior high school students who were transferred to Reading Senior High School.

Worthy of note is the fact that as a community incentive, local organizations and businesses sponsored awards for students who excelled in the various fields of home economics.

Members of this department and the district supervisor, Miss Florence M. Seiders, examine the new microwave oven acquired by the department this past year.

Mrs. Lynn F. Schober, Miss Florence M. Seiders, Director of Home Economics for the Reading School District; Mrs. Hannah M. Ori, department chairman; Miss Deborah L. Herwick, Mrs. Rosene S. Schofer; and Miss Deborah A. VanLuvender.

As a special project during the Yuletide season, seniors of the foods classes planned, prepared, and served tea and refreshments to the members of the school administration and the faculty.

Served—Tezella Baldwin; Standing—Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, Superintendent of the Reading Public Schools.

One of the enjoyable activities in the clothing classes was the making of wearing apparel from popular teen-age patterns.

Mrs. Gayle L. Kastenbaum

Starting with the past school term, Rooms A-151 and A-152 in the new building were used as the new reading laboratories, and Mrs. Gayle L. Kastenbaum was named as the additional reading consultant.

As a result of the individualized instruction and supervision provided by the consultants, students were able to improve and master their reading skills. Other aids included special reading study guides, graded reading units of study, plus various other supplementary reading aids and special reading laboratory devices.

Another important aim of the developmental reading program was to help students become more skilled in the use of the dictionary.

You thought the 20's were gone!

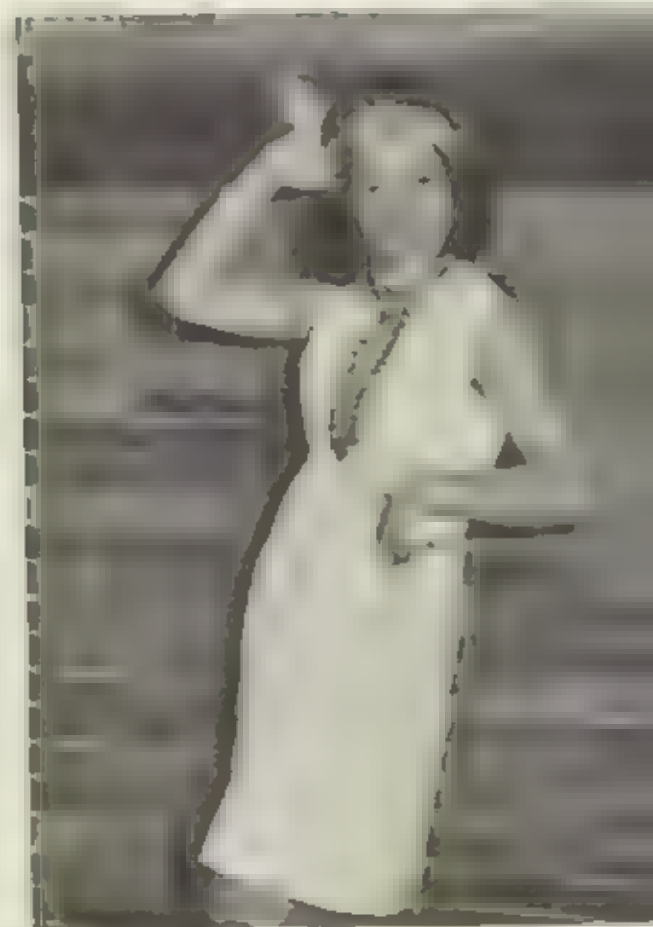

Senior Party Night

Date: Friday, January 4, 1974

Place: Old Boys' Gym

Time: 8:00 P.M.-11:00 P.M.

"Presenting . . . the roaring 20's"

In the roaring twenties, she would have been the cat's meow!

Pass . . . pass the hot potato!

... Well, you were wrong! ...

Some can do it .

... and some can't!

It's not as easy as it looks!

"Our Gang" takes a rest!

They were here again! . . .

Class president aims at the

. . . class sponsor!

Movin' and a groovin'!

Look no further!

... and again!

This is a sticky situation!!!

Is he catching up?

I can't believe I ate the whole thing!

Let's show 'em how to do it!

All's well that ends well!

Key Club

Sponsor—Mr. Ronald L. Spickler

Even before the school year started in the fall, Key Club was busily engaged in serving the school. As a special project, members moved instructional supplies to the new rooms in the newly-built school annex.

Later, the members served as ushers for the student-faculty play, sold programs at the football games, and held two banquets, namely a Parents Banquet and a Leaders' Banquet. For the third consecutive year, they sponsored the homecoming queen contest.

Community activities included the collecting of money for the heart fund and cancer drives, making radio spot in Reading at the R.H.S. Steelton basketball game, making radio spot announcements urging the people of the city to vote and giving cans of dog food for the Humane Society.

Michael Krumholz, Key Club's president presented a certificate of appreciation to Mr. Anthony P. Stopper for his interesting lecture on modern techniques of football.

Domenic Izzo, vice president; James Bolton, treasurer; Michael Krumholz, president; Mr. Anthony P. Stopper, president of the Reading Football Officials' Association; former Reading High School football coach, and guest speaker; Mr. Ronald L. Spickler, sponsor of Key Club.

For the second consecutive year, members of the Key Club entertained a group from the Children's Home at a basketball game.

Y-Teens

Sponsor—Mrs. Lynn E. Shobel

In keeping with the basic aims of Y-Teens, the group again sponsored a fashion show at the Jewish Community Center on November 15, 1973, they collected canned goods and money for a needy family during Thanksgiving, and held a formal dance on December 29, 1973, at the Reading Motor Inn.

Featured for the first time was a Big Sister Program. In this new project, the members volunteered their time to serve as counselors to elementary school girls.

Scrubbing the school steps with a toothbrush constituted one of the unique initiations for new club members.

Hi-Y Club

Sponsors—Mr. Brian Cashman

Mr. John Schonewolf

Mr. Vaughn D. Spencer

Mr. Marshall Wagner

Chief aims of this club were to promote fellowship at Reading High School and assist the YMCA with youth programs.

As a fund raising project, the members sold cushions.

Special social activities planned for the year consisted of spring outing, and a field trip to Hershey Park to see an ice hockey game.

For the first time in the history of the club, four sponsors assisted the officers in planning and carrying out club activities.

Serve Our School

Sponsor—Mrs. Roumal Chisholm

For the most part, members of the club provided a variety of essential services as needed for the school and community.

Newest of the club projects was the service the girls rendered as school guides during the open house of the high school annex on Sunday, March 3, 1974.

Highlighting the community activities of the club was the collection of canned food for a needy family at Thanksgiving.

In addition, members of the group performed various tasks for the American Red Cross for which they received a certificate of merit.

At the beginning of the year, the officers and the sponsor prepared a tentative list of activities to be considered later by club members.

Prayer and Share Club

Sponsor—Miss Anna V. Wheeler

Because of the continued student interest, this club was included in the club schedule for the second successive year. As in the previous school term, the group met purely on a volunteer basis.

Off-campus, the club met at a neighboring church after school every Tuesday and Friday for Bible study and discussion.

Every morning from 8:00 A.M. to 8:15 A.M. in Room 202, members of the group met for silent prayer.

Baba-Na-Kaka

Sponsors—Mrs. Mabel Davis
Mrs. Frances Smith

Initiating a feeling of brotherhood between one another was the main objective of the Baba-Na-Kaka Club. As a result, this group sponsored a variety of activities designed to narrow the gap of individual and group misunderstanding.

One of the unique projects was sponsored during Afro-American History Week from February 8, 1974 to February 19, 1974 inclusive. During this time, club members visited social studies classes leading discussion on black history and culture.

Other activities included selling beautiful hand-crafted jewelry, and the publishing of a newspaper.

As a special activity, the group planned a skating party for May 18, 1974 in an effort to raise money for a scholarship fund.

As one of the activities for Afro-American History Week, club members arranged an informative display of literature in one of the showcases in the lobby.

Leslie Mugar, Rose Lewis, Mrs. Frances Smith, co-sponsor, Kathy Thompson, Doreen Jankans

In an effort to raise additional funds, members of the Baba-Na-Kaka Club sold "scrumptious" baked goods in the school store.

Red and Black

Advisor—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

Students, faculty and the community were continuously informed of Castle activities chiefly through the Red and Black, the school newspaper.

During the year, the publications included noteworthy news items, sparkling sports articles, and delightful feature pages

Highlighting the special issues were the humorous April 1, 1974 edition, and the eight page paper at the end of the year. Feature pages that attracted great student interest were the valentine sweethearts and senior personality sections

Red and Black

Advisor—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

Extra-curricular activities included a field trip to the Pennsylvania School Press Association Convention at the Holiday Inn on November 9-10, 1973. Four delegates were sent to the conclave. Sandra Weidner of the feature staff placed third in a writing contest at this convention, thereby winning a $25 government bond. This is the second year in which a Reading High School student won a state award in this literary contest. Jan Maiale, present editor-in-chief, won first place last year.

As a new project, the staff conducted in-depth surveys in and around the community. One of the topics was "Is Reading High a Good Neighbor?" Responses were much in favor of the high school as a neighbor.

In-depth surveys were illustrated by interesting photographs.

Knight Life

Sponsor—Mr. Thomas A. Fox

Reading Senior High School's television show, Knight Life, was presented every Monday night from 8:00 P.M. to 8:30 P.M. on Cable Channel 5.

Shows were first telecast in 1968, in the studio of WRFY. In 1971, 1972, and part of 1973, the programs were presented in the Cable Channel 5 Studios. Starting November 19, 1973, the TV programs were aired live from the high school.

Throughout the year, this program featured delightful quiz and game shows plus informative programs featuring prominent school and community leaders.

Highlights of the television season were the presentations of outstanding personalities such as Pat Boone, Stan Kenton, and Joanne Chelius, Reading High School's 1973-74 Homecoming Queen.

Behind the scenes, three students took care of the technical aspects of each show.

Red Pen

Sponsor—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

As in previous years, one of the three major publications at Reading High School was the Red Pen magazine.

Means used by the English 4X class to encourage members of the student body to submit material for publication were announcements made over the public address system, colorful posters, and the designation of October 22-26, 1973 as Red Pen Week.

For the most part, the contents of the publication included short stories, articles, essays, poetry, and art work submitted by Castle students. Members of the English 4X class selected material of merit for final publication in the school's magazine.

Staff heads met frequently to discuss plans for magazine layout and content.

Joyce Villforth, essay editor; Janice Berger, editor-in-chief; Deborah Dundore, poetry editor; Stephanie Davis, business manager; Cynthia Kusnir, art editor; Ann Daubert, short story editor

Throughout the year, students worked diligently to select the student body's best literary material for publication.

Castle Page

Sponsor—Mr. H. Robert Barrett

Basic aims for this course were to inform students of the fundamentals in the field of journalism, and to provide the students with actual work experiences in publishing a newspaper.

After learning the theoretical aspects of journalism, students prepared a four-page issue of the paper in which they did all of the reporting, editing, typing, and printing of the publication.

Before preparing their first newspaper, the editors and staff members determined the format for their publication.

Future Teachers of America

Sponsor—Mrs. Georgeanna N. Coleman

To inform members of the club about opportunities and rewards of the teaching profession, and to provide students with practical experiences in the same field were the main objectives of this organization.

As part of the orientation program, club members served as tutors to help students on the elementary and secondary level. Furthermore, they spent a day with teachers in the Reading School District, and observed teaching methods and procedures of teachers in a county school district and a local college.

Funds for the various field trips were raised through the means of a cake sale.

Officers proudly display the emblem of their club.

Clockwise—Ann Daubert, secretary; Mrs. Georgeanna N. Coleman, sponsor; Joseph Rauen, vice president; Joan Rader, president; Absent—Cathy Wentzel, treasurer.

In addition to the regular group discussions during club meetings, members were continuously informed of new trends in the teaching profession.

Future Business Leaders of America

Sponsor—Miss Anna V. Wheeler

Basic aims of this organization were to help the members gain more interest and understanding of the challenging demands of the modern business world and to help them develop competent business leadership.

Miss Anna V. Wheeler accepted the role as the new sponsor. She succeeded Miss Kathryn Llewellyn.

Fund raising projects included selling Christmas candles during the Christmas holidays and various types of stationery later in the school year.

Plans were made to hold a bowling party for the Christmas vacation as a social project.

At the beginning of the year, officers of the club and the sponsor prepared the tentative agenda of the club's activities.

Seated—Connie Schaeffer, secretary; Standing—Miss Anna V. Wheeler, sponsor; Diane Herbein, treasurer; Sherry Drey, vice president; Diane Lerch, president; Absent—Kim Johnson, parliamentarian; Debra Harris, historian.

Girls' Athletic Association

Sponsor—Miss Patricia Enzman

Providing extra curricular athletic activities for girls interested in sports, and to promote a better understanding of athletics were the main objectives of this organization.

By participating in intramurals, varsity programs, service projects, and helping with the organization's activities, the girls could earn cumulative points for awards. According to a designated number of points acquired, the girls were able to qualify for a letter, pin, or guard.

Sports added to this year's intramural programs were basketball, speedball, and archery. During the second half of the school term, girls' track was introduced as a girls' varsity sport.

Social events included a Mother-Daughter Play Night held on November 13, 1973.

Officers of the organization provided many services in helping the sponsors to promote the organization's programs.

Seated — Cathy Wentzel, president; Standing — Cathy Fake, secretary; Karen Paskowski, twelfth grade representative; Vicky Eckert, eleventh grade representative; Absent—Susan DeLong, vice-president

United Nations Club

Sponsor—Mrs. Jess F. Cwiklinski

Conclaves in which the membership of the Castle club participated included the Albright College Conference held on November 18, 1973, in which our delegation placed first, and the Lafayette College Conference on January 11, 1974, where the team was awarded first and fifth places, respectively.

During the month of March, the local chapter took part in the North American Invitational Model United Nations held from March 7, 1974 to March 10, 1974 in Washington, D. C., in which the Castle delegation earned two first places of the five awards. As a result, the club became the best United Nations student group in the country. Furthermore, this was the biggest conference with over one hundred and forty countries being represented. Reading High School received two out of the five major awards in the competition.

Later, Castle delegations were sent to the Ursinus College Conference and to the East Coast Model Conference.

Officers and the sponsor met frequently to prepare plans for the various conferences.

Library Staff

Head Librarian—

Mrs. Eleanor B. Printz

Assistant Librarian—

Mrs. Jean R. Weiser

Library Secretary—

Mrs. Nancy L. Taylor

Castle students who were interested in library careers could make preliminary preparation for this type of work by enrolling in the library science course.

In this elective, the student librarians learned the basic and advanced theoretical aspects of library procedures from certified librarians, and also gained actual work experience in the library and workroom under the careful supervision of the same professional librarians.

Members of this year's staff who served as junior librarians for three consecutive years were Kathleen Binasiewicz and Gayl Krafczyk.

Periodically staff members were given comprehensive training in the theoretical aspects of library procedures.

Cheerleaders

Twelve dynamic girls of the cheerleading squad sparked student enthusiasm in the school, at school pep rallies, and at various athletic events.

As in previous years, the girls sponsored a spirit chain contest whereby members of the student body could purchase links for their respective grades. Tenth grade succeeded in winning the contest. Funds from this activity were used for the banner to be displayed in the new gym.

One of the special projects of the cheerleaders was a poster contest for which different organizations prepared creative posters. Seven were submitted. Local judges selected the cheerleaders' entry as the most original.

Members of the Reading High's cheerleading squad proudly show the banner they purchased for display in the new gymnasium.

Assembly Chairmen

Sponsor—Miss Mary A. Capallo

Basically, the duties of the members of this group were two-fold. They served as assembly chairmen whereby they provided the continuity for each assembly program in the school auditorium. In addition, each morning over the public address system, these students directed the opening exercises to the ninety-six homerooms.

In the latter task, as student directors, they gave messages of inspiration and kept the student body aware and informed of daily activities and forthcoming events at the Castle.

For the most part, members of this organization were selected on the basis of speaking ability, poise, and leadership.

In the beginning of the year, Miss Mary A. Capallo, the sponsor, briefed the chairmen on the fundamentals of assembly procedures

Assembly Organists

Sponsor—Mr. Salvatore P. Orlando

As in previous years, most of the processional and recessional music for school assemblies and special interlude organ melodies for lectures and other special programs in the school auditorium was provided by the student organists.

In 1937, the organ was installed and donated to the school by students and faculty in memory of Mr. Carl Ludwig Cassel, a teacher and vice principal at the Castle from 1915 to 1935.

Frequently, the student organists and their sponsor, Mr. Salvatore P. Orlando, met to select appropriate music for future assemblies and special auditorium programs

Advanced Physical Education

Sponsors Mrs Rita P. Burkey
Mr. Jack C. Prutzman

Separate advanced physical education courses for boys and girls were discontinued this past year in favor of a new co ed program.

Upper-classmen chosen for this elective were assigned eight gym periods per week: one for instruction in basic sport fundamentals, five for practical application of these skills, and two for participation in mandatory gym classes.

As a result of this program, seniors received helpful training and experience for future physical education careers.

Receptionists

Sponsor—Mrs. Mabel J. Davis

For the most part, members of this group served as student hostesses to parents, friends, and guests who visited Reading High School.

In the lobby, the receptionists greeted the visitors and directed and escorted them to the general office, and when required, to other destinations in the school building.

When necessary, these girls also rendered a variety of services for the guidance department.

Other assignments for this group included the directing of traffic in the lobby during fire drills.

Office Messengers

Office Supervisor—Mrs. Norma M. Dyer

During the year you might have noticed a number of students scurrying through the halls, or girls busily engaged with certain tasks in the general office. Members of this unique service group, known as office messengers, consisted of sixty girls who surrendered their study hall time to assist the general office staff.

Routine tasks of this group were to collect the absentee slips from the ninety-six homerooms each morning, to distribute the mimeographed absentee lists to every teacher, and to collect the daily absentee reports from each teacher during the last period of the school day.

Special duties included performing minor clerical services for the office staff and delivering important packages and messages to teachers.

After registration, Mrs. Norma M. Dyer, office supervisor, informed the office messengers of their various responsibilities.

Awards Committee

Chairman—Mr. William H. Clouser

Basically, this committee provided the means for students to be recognized for their active participation in non-athletic activities.

Committee members determined activities to be included, and the respective point values for each. In addition, the committee designated the exact number of points for students to qualify for the service awards.

As in previous years, one per cent of the members of the senior class who earned the highest number of points were eligible for the coveted gold "R" service pins.

Near the end of the year, Mr. William H. Clouser, chairman, and members of the committee prepared the master list of seniors eligible for the non-athletic awards.

Health and Safety Committee

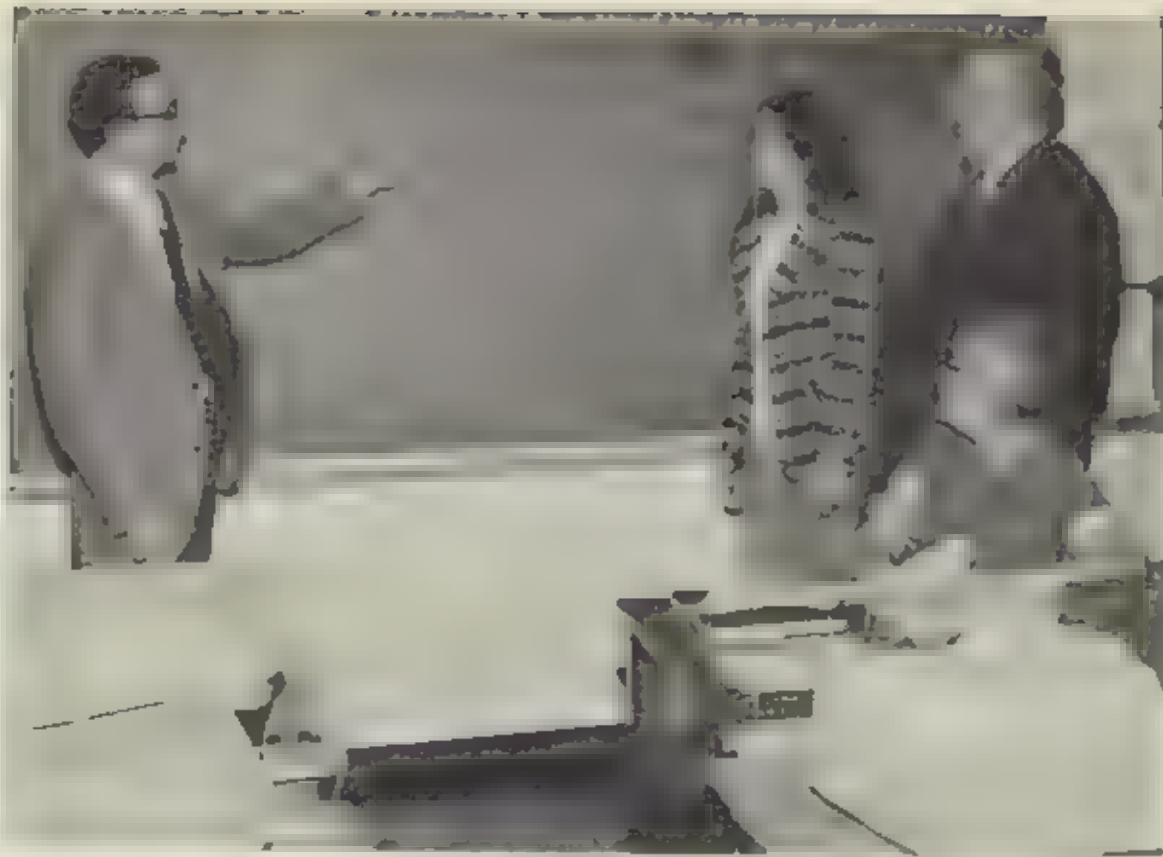

Chairman—Mrs. Rita P. Burkey

Throughout the year, members of this committee recommended good health and safety habits to the student body by announcements over the public address system and by informative and well-designed posters.

Specifically, the committee evaluated existing conditions at the Castle. Later, after careful consideration, the group then made the specific recommendations for improvements to the school administration for additional study and action.

Early in the year, members of the committee listed some of the health and safety matters to be discussed at forthcoming meetings.

S.T.O.P. Club

Sponsor Mr. Matthew J. Spence

Students to Obliterate Pollution was a student organization at Reading High School which aimed to increase the public's awareness of the pollution issue, and to show people how they can minimize this problem locally and state-wide.

As its major project, this group utilized current newspaper items on an ecology bulletin board outside of Room 107 to keep Castle students continually informed of various phases of the ecology movement.

In addition, the group made a field trip to the Fritz Island Sewage Treatment Plant to observe the procedures used in disposing waste materials.

Periodically members of the club examined the bulletin board and made changes as newer ecology materials were made available

Exhibits Committee

Sponsor—Mr. Edwin R. Madenford

Scheduling interesting exhibits for the two display cases in the main lobby was the main responsibility of this student-faculty committee.

For the most part, the cases were used as a means to promote various school activities such as the activity ticket drive, school show, homecoming queen contest, Afro-American History Week, and American Education Week

Unique displays were also arranged for holiday seasons and special occasions.

At a mid-term meeting, members of the committee discussed plans for scheduling exhibits for the remainder of the year.

Student Council

Sponsor—Mr. Roger N. Mory

Correlating the work of student organizations and promoting a closer cooperation between the students and faculty were the main goals of student council.

As a combined school and community project, the council helped to organize and supervise a paper drive for paper recycling. All members of the student body and the community were urged to participate. Funds from the drive were equally divided among the three classes.

On May 3, 1974, the council sponsored a dance in the new gymnasium. Featured as the special musical group was the Uncle Drew combo.

Jan Maiale, vice-president, and George Burford, president, analyze the publication "The Effective Student Activities Program," for a special report to the Castle's Student Council.

Security Council

Sponsors—Mr. William C. Horine—
Mrs. Mabel Davis—

At Reading High School, the Security Council served somewhat on the same basis as a civilian defense unit.

Early in the year Mr. Roland P. Kyle, the principal, registered the student volunteers for the check up squad, and then assigned security council arm bands, accordingly.

Row 1—Peter Yarnell, Jonathan Zweizig, Mr. Roland P. Kyle, principal and squad sponsor, Robert White, Russell Scianna, Anthony Jackson, Stephen Brommer; Absent—Russell Baker, Gerald Calabrese, Frederick Graupp, Michael Krumholz, Peter Pasko, Alvino Reyes, Michael Schonewolf

Officers and sponsor met frequently to finalize details on the club's various activities.

Health Careers Club

Sponsor—Mrs. Maxine Ernesto, R.N.

Events on this year's agenda of Health Careers Club included both business and informative meetings.

As a special service project, the group donated collected coupons to Philadelphia's Deborah Heart Hospital for purchasing new and better equipment. To aid the community, a portion of the club's treasury was presented to the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, and different types of animal food were provided for the Humane Society.

Highlighting the organization's happenings was a field trip to Philadelphia for a tour of the Smith, Kline and French drug laboratories and a visit to the School for the Deaf.

Science Club

Sponsor—Mr. Richard K. Scaife

Discussions held on such topics as astrology and astronomy constituted the major points of interest at Science Club meetings.

Highlighting the subject-related activities of the club was a trip to the local planetarium. Later in the year, the group also visited the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C.

Details for the trip to Washington were capably handled by club leaders.

Russell Scianna, treasurer; Mr. Richard K. Scaife, sponsor; Michael Reinert, president; Dennis Ulrich, secretary; Ricky Hoffman, vice-president

Castle Spirit Club

Sponsor—Mr. Joseph L. Simmons, Jr.

Basically, the Castle Spirit Club was continued to promote school spirit and to stimulate the student body's interest in sport events and other activities at the Castle.

One of the club's major activities was the sponsoring of the buses for away football and basketball games.

During the football season, the club urged school support by decorating the halls and lockers with posters.

Registering and collecting money for bus trips to away athletic contests constituted parts of the club officers' special responsibilities.

Susan Zabinski, treasurer; Ann Daubert, vice president; Susan DeLong, president; Cynthia Wunder, secretary.

During the games, club members did their part to encourage enthusiasm among the sports spectators.

At one of the meetings, Mr. Salvatore P. Orlando, chairman informed his group about the special assemblies which were added to the original assembly schedule.

Standing—Mr. Salvatore P. Orlando, chairman; Mr. Philip W. Moore, George Buford, Ann DeLong, Mr. Charles W. Egan, George Gallagher.
Absent—Mr. James T. Reedy, Mrs. Palma Reynolds, Mr. Hiram Hoch, Mr. Robert E. Moyer, Mr. Harold E. Mack, Mrs. Rounal Chisholm, secretary.

Assembly Committee

Chairman—Mr. Salvatore P. Orlando

Preparing a schedule of interesting assembly programs was the main duty of this student-faculty organization. Initially, this committee and sponsoring groups determined the date for the routine guidance, awards, holiday, and music programs.

Later, the committee made arrangements for special presentations such as the Fourth Naval District Band from Philadelphia, karate demonstration, slides on stock cars from the Reading Fairgrounds, and a program by the General Electric Company.

As an experiment, the group arranged special assembly in the new gym to check the seating accommodations for the total student body. At the same time, the students were informed of the details of the forthcoming paper drive.

Reading High School's award winning band expanded its activities by participating in three new competitions. On September 29, 1973, the City of Reading celebrated its 225th anniversary with a state-wide parade. In this event, the band placed second. Later, in the New Holland Parade on October 3, 1973, the group earned three first places, namely in the best intermediate basic band, best color guard, and best auxiliary units. Finally, for the first time in the school's history, the band and its auxiliary units took part in international competition in Canada in the Blossom Parade

A Cappella Choir

Director—Mr. Charles W. Lutz

For the most part, the A Cappella Choir's performances during the first semester were for Yuletide occasions. On December 9, 1973, the group gave a delightful choral program at St. John's Lutheran Church in Sinking Spring. Two days later, the choir presented a Christmas concert at Northwest Junior High School. Shortly thereafter, on December 20, 1973, the choir and concert orchestra combined their talents for two Christmas assemblies at Reading High School.

In a post-season performance, the choir sang carols at St. Peter's Catholic Church on January 6, 1974.

Of special note is the fact that Rebecca Beears, a senior, was selected to sing soprano in the Eastern District Chorus which took place at the Wyomissing High School from January 31, 1974 to February 2, 1974.

A Cappella Choir

Director—Mr. Charles W. Lutz

Highlighting the group's activities during the second semester were a choral concert for an assembly program at Northwest Junior High School on March 22, 1974, and the choir's participation in the school's Evening of Music in the Reading High School auditorium on Wednesday, May 8, 1974.

In addition, the choir sang for the 135th Commencement Exercises in the field house on Thursday, June 6, 1974. This marked the first time that the newly-built annex was used for commencement, and the first choral performance in the new gymnasium.

Director—Mr. Charles W. Lutz

For three consecutive school terms, this popular madrigal ensemble was featured by the choral department. As in previous years, this versatile group performed chiefly for various community functions.

Personnel of the unit consisted of a selected group of boys and girls who had outstanding music ability and a definite urge to sing

Tunes and the manner of dress were from the fifteenth, sixteenth, and seventeenth centuries.

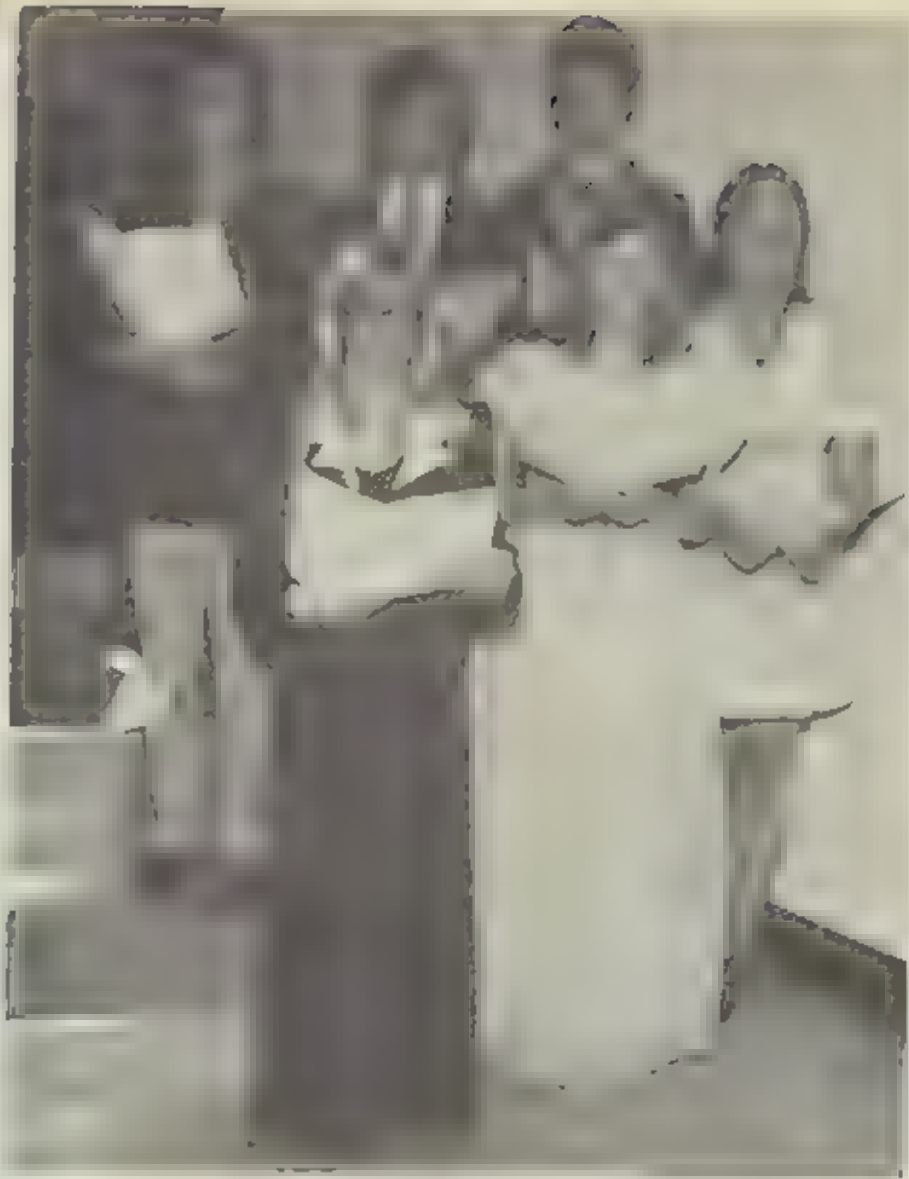

Highlighting their activities were choral presentations for the senior citizens on January 10, 1974 at the Kennedy Tower Apartments, and for the Berks County Historical Society Arts Festival on June 10, 1974.

Mixed Chorus

Director—Mr. Charles W. Lutz

One of the three five period per week choral electives offered to Castle students this past year was Mixed Chorus.

Every day during period seven, the vocalists practiced in the choral room to learn and master the art of harmonizing in the singing of classical and modern music.

Girls' Glee Club

Director—Mr. Charles W. Lutz

For the most part, girls who chose this choral elective learned basic and advance techniques of singing three part harmony.

Members of this group, composed of girls from the three grades, met daily during period two to practice and prepare programs for high school assemblies and for special community functions.

Tentatively, these vocalists were also scheduled to participate in the Evening of Music to be held in the high school auditorium on May 8, 1974.

Throughout the year vocalists of the glee club as well as those of other choral groups often received individual instruction.

Castleaires

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

Reading High School's stage band, the Castleaires, gave ten outstanding performances this past year.

Highlighting the group's shows were the delightful programs given in assemblies at two junior high schools, and in the new gym of the senior high school annex.

Other appearances included presentations at St. Stephen's Church, at the Robert S. Birch Speaking Contest, and at several elementary schools in the city.

Featured as the first instrumental unit in the new gym was Reading High School's own dance band—the Castleaires.

Brass Choir

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

Generally speaking, this instrumental ensemble performed chiefly during the Yuletide season.

Special programs were featured in the Reading High School auditorium on the evening of December 12, 1973, and at the same location on December 21, 1973, for the school's annual Christmas assembly.

In addition, the group repeated its annual Christmas Carol Tour in the city on December 19, 1973.

Annually, the Brass Choir provides enjoyable instrumental favorites as part of the Christmas assembly.

Concert Orchestra

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

Highlighting the orchestra's activities this year was a delightful program of Yuletide favorites for the school's two Christmas assemblies on December 20, 1973.

In the spring, members of the orchestra gave instrumental assemblies at the Northeast Junior High School, and the Southern Junior High School.

Climaxing the orchestra's performances for the year was the instrumental music which the orchestra provided for the Standard Evening School Commencement on June 4, 1974, and the Reading High School Commencement on June 6, 1974.

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

As in previous years, various members participated in the Eastern District Orchestra. Instrumentalists who took part in this event at Freedom High School in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania on January 18-19, 1974 were two seniors, namely Russell Labe, clarinet; and Stephanie Davis, violin. Juniors who performed at the same concert were Carol Trayer, viola; Joel Rentz, viola; and Peter Yarnell, violin. Karen Marlow, violin, was the sophomore representing Reading High School at this concert.

Musicians who played at Great Valley High School in Malvern, Pennsylvania, in the Regional Orchestra on February 28, 1974 and March 1-2, 1974 were Stephanie Davis, a senior on violin, and two juniors, namely Joel Rentz on viola, and William Hemmig on violin.

Instrumental Ensembles

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

Membership in this instrumental elective enabled students to gain dual rewards.

As a result of the specialized training and ensemble experience, the musicians were able to improve basic skills, and develop new techniques on their respective instruments.

Furthermore, by continuous practice in ensemble playing, the instrumentalists had numerous opportunities to acquire greater proficiency in intonation and blending, and at the same time, prepare for participation in the Castle's larger instrumental groups such as the Marching Band, Concert Orchestra, and the Castle's own dance orchestra—the Castleaires.

Chess Club

Sponsor—Mr. Lee J. Maniaci

Foremost of the club's activities at the Castle were the individual matches which the students had with the members of the Reading High School faculty. In this competitive event, the students won by a score of $4\frac{1}{2}$ to $1\frac{1}{2}$.

Off-campus, the student chessmen participated in a tournament with Governor Mifflin High School on November 30, 1973, and in another contest in New York City, New York in January 1974.

As a special project, the members sponsored a cake sale in the school store in order to raise money to purchase jackets and letters for their team members.

Debating Club

Sponsor—Mr. James A. Achenbach

Reading High School's debating club started the year with a very impressive record by winning their first six tournaments. Later, by capturing the District Championship, the team qualified for the Pennsylvania State Bicentennial Championship Debate Tournament. In this event they placed seventh. In addition, members of the club participated in tournaments at Kings College, Brown University, Columbia University, and the University of Pennsylvania.

Monthly cake sales were held and soft bites were sold in school to raise money for their tournaments and various social activities.

Club officers frequently met to discuss plans for forthcoming debates

Russian Club

Sponsor—Mrs. Sara S. Achenbach

Basically, this club was formed to enable members to enrich their background of Russian culture.

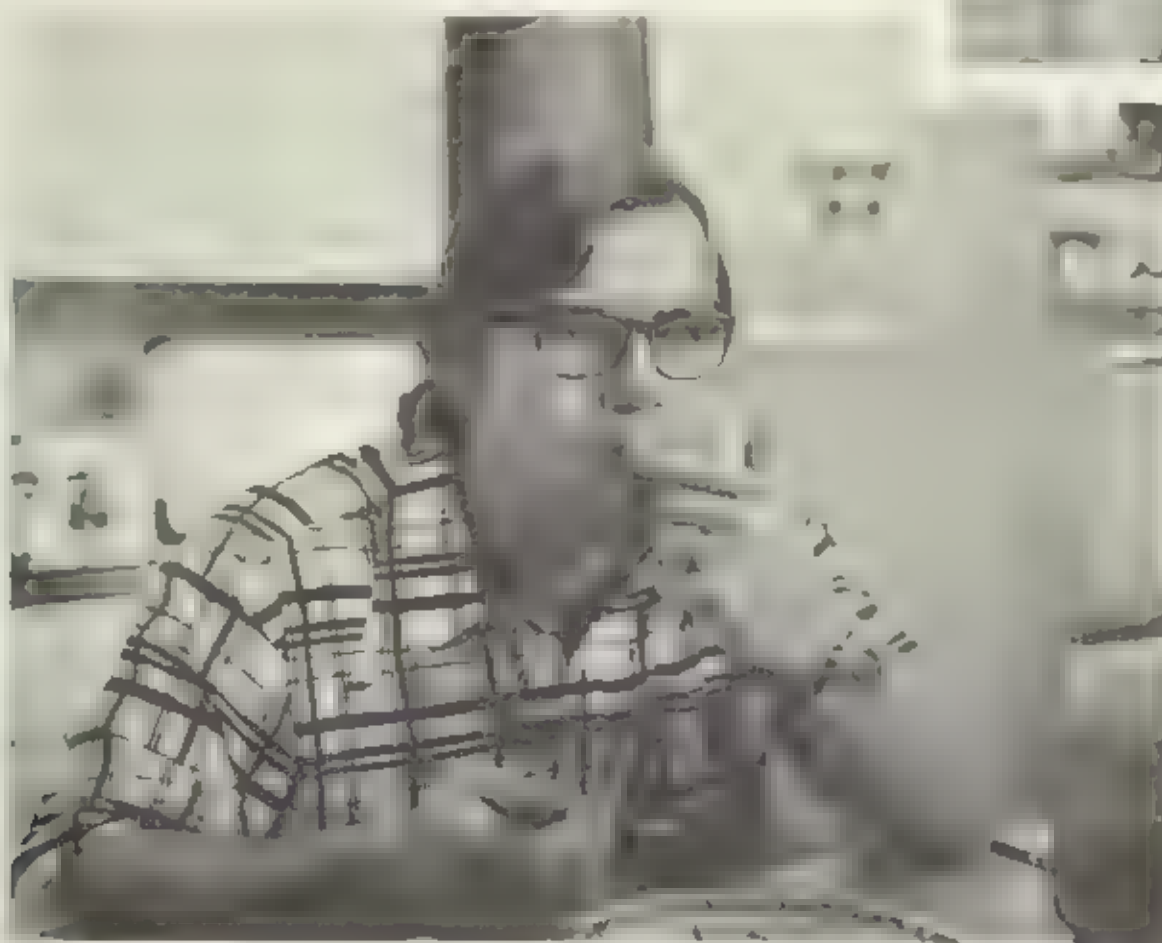

Highlighting the club's educational projects was a field trip to the Rajah Temple to view the Siberian Dancers.

Special social activities of the club included a piroggi eating contest on September 28, 1973, in which Mr. James A. Achenbach, a teacher, earned championship honors. Russell Scianna, a student, finished second. Later in the year, the club members enjoyed a bowling party at Hiester's Lane on October 6, 1973.

Activities of the club were carefully planned and supervised by the club's three officers.

German Club

Sponsors—Mr. Edward J. Becker

Mr. Otto W. Voit

Through active participation in the activities of this club, members were able to gain a deeper appreciation of the cultural aspects of Germany.

Educational field trips included one to New York to view the opera "Carmen" at the New York State Opera, Lincoln Center, and the other was an actual tour of Germany during the school's spring recess.

Social events consisted of a hayride in November, and a banquet at the Alpenhof Restaurant, in April.

Officers of the club discuss details of the nine day educational field trip to Germany.

Assistant Coach

Mr. John Schonewolf, Reading High School's new varsity football coach, succeeded Mr. Vincent O'Bara, who formerly served in the same position for two consecutive years. Before starting his coaching duties at the Castle, Mr. Schonewolf was an assistant coach for four years and head coach for two years at Tyrone High School. Later, he served as head coach at Cocalico for one year. His next position was at Pottstown where he was head mentor for six years. Before coming to Reading, he was head coach at York Suburban for one year.

His nine year cumulative record as head coach took place at the Tyrone, Cocalico, Pottstown and York Suburban high schools. During this span of time, his teams earned a winning log of sixty-three per cent, namely, 57 wins, 33 losses, and 2 ties.

Assistants who returned from last year's coaching staff were Mr. Marshall Wagner and Mr. Vaughn Spencer. New coaching personnel who assisted the new head coach were Mr. Paul Riffle and Mr. Brian Cashman.

In Reading High School's second season in the Big Eight Conference, the Castlemen posted a record of 1-8-1. Highlight of the season was the Thanksgiving Day game with Pottsville for the traveling coal trophy. This coal has been exchanged between the two schools for sixty-six years. During this period of time, the Knights earned thirty-two wins and seven ties. As an exclusive feature, the Pottsville School District dedicated this year's Pottsville-Reading game to Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, Superintendent of the Reading Schools, who announced his plans for retirement earlier in this year. Dimming the colorful ceremonies was Reading's heartbreaking loss to Pottsville 13-7.

Players who earned outstanding records during the season were Melvin Martin, Robert White, and Michael Schonewolf who scored a total of 30, 24 and 22 points, respectively. Robert White also led the squad with 27 catches for a total yard gain of 488 yards. Oliver Turpin's 384 yards of 100 attempts proved to be the top rushing record. Duane Krapf, Alvino Reyes, and Neal Miller received Lineman of the Week awards for displaying outstanding ability.

Coaches—Mr. Paul Riffle

Rebounding from two opening losses, Reading High's junior varsity football squad finished the remainder of the season with five consecutive victories.

Our Red Knights dropped their opener to Lancaster Catholic, 22-8. Konnie Brockington scored all of the Knights' points. Again, only Konnie Brockington scored in the second and final loss of the season, 30-6, at the hands of Governor Mifflin.

For the rest of the season, Reading posted a most impressive record of five successive victories. Reading came on strong in a 14-0 thrashing of Hill School. Brockington set up a Robert Clay touchdown with forty-six seconds to play as the Knights edged Wilson, 20-18.

Reading's Castlemen ended October with two more victories. First, the Knights stormed Muhlenberg, 20-7, then Reading High School outscored Lancaster McCaskey, 40-30. Curtis Ellison scored three touchdowns to spark Reading past McCaskey.

Reading rounded out a 5-2 season by defeating Schuylkill Valley, 12-7. Robert Clay scored both Red Knight touchdowns.

Curtis Ellison led the team in scoring with six touchdowns and three conversions for forty-two points. All home games were played on the turf of George Field.

With Mr. Curtis Reinik and Mr. John Meyers at the team's helm, the Reading High soccer squad posted a record of four wins, eleven losses and one tie. Reading lost eight times in its first nine tries, but came back to win four of the final six games.

Victory's sweet taste first came to the Red Knights at Mount Penn, 2-0. Reading followed with a 3-2 win at Oley. Conrad Weiser ended the short winning streak, 5-2.

Our Knights rebounded by beating Hamburg and Wilson, both by 3-2 scores. Sandwiched between the victories was a 1-0 loss to Tulpehocken.

Reading finished third in the Eastern Division of the Berks County Soccer League. Jeffrey Lotz and Paul Stelmach led all knight scorers with nine and five goals, respectively.

Although not in an official league, Reading's junior varsity squad won four, lost five, and tied two. Leading scorers were Alex Nacar, Scott Coldren, and Ronald Glass.

Opponents of both the varsity and junior varsity levels were hosted by the Knights at Glenside Field.

Cross Country

Coach—Mr. R. Michael Bell

Assistant Coach—Mr. Thomas Johnson

Reading High School harriers opened their season with a 20-35 win over the Boyertown squad, a non-league contender. Because of inclement weather, the next non-league meet against Lancaster, a new opponent, was cancelled and made-up in late October with Reading victorious, 25-30.

League action began as the Knights posted a 26-29 win over Governor Mifflin. They gave way to Muhlenberg in the next event with a score of 41-23. In the following meet, the Knights placed third at mid-season as a result of a 24-31 triumph over Conrad Weiser. Reading suffered its final loss of the year at the hands of Exeter, 40-20. Next, the harriers finished the season with victories over Wilson 20-35, and Hamburg, 15-47. In the latter contest, four Red Knights earned first place positions as a result of crossing the finishing line at the same time. By posting a seasonal log of six wins and two losses, the Reading squad captured third in Section I competition.

Pacing the harriers was Brent Mays who had a total of four firsts and never less than third in any event. During the season, he broke two records while running against Boyertown and Wilson. His times for those meets were 14:50, a course record on the 2.5 mile track at Boyertown and 13:47, a school record on the 2.4 mile course at Reading. Another outstanding runner was John Keith, a junior, who consistently placed in the top five.

In the Conference Run, involving one hundred and ninety contenders, Brent Mays placed ninth, and the team as a whole earned a tie for fifth in a field of fifteen opponents.

In District #3 action, Brent Mays ended forty-sixth in competition with two hundred and ten runners.

"Reading High School, Undefeated Central Penn Conference Champions"—It has a nice ring! . . . And in 1973-74, the Reading Red Knights, with an unbeaten 10-0 record, conquered the conference for the third consecutive year.

After winning the season opener at Governor Mifflin, Reading made a debut in the new gymnasium by bouncing Coatesville 76-36.

Reading suffered its first loss in the schedule in the season's third game to William Allen. Following this setback, the Knights clicked for two victories before losing at Nanticoke 58-51.

In an overtime tension square-off, Peter Pasko sank a basket to give the Readingites a 51-50 victory over arch-rival Chester. In the Pottsville Christmas Tournament, the Red Knights fought past Harrisburg in the opening round, but lost to Pottsville in the final 62-60.

League play then began, and Reading defeated all league opponents twice. At Central Dauphin East, the Red Knights scored 102 points for a new school record. With a 63-40 victory over York, the Knights completed a perfect league season.

In the first game of District III Class A playoffs, Reading routed Gettysburg 70-47. Hershey High School cut short the Red Knights' hopes for further playoff play, 53-40.

Stanley Cooper led Reading High School scorers with 430 points. Cooper's total was the third most points in a single season, ranking behind Stuart Jackson (1973) and Bill Jankans (1967).

Two five game winning streaks boosted Coach R. Michael Eckenroth's junior varsity basketball team to a 14-7 overall record this season. By finishing 7-3 in league competition, the Knights placed second in the Central Penn Conference.

Reading opened the season with five consecutive victories including a 58-55 thriller at William Allen. In their debut in the new Reading High sports complex, the Baby Knights scored a 51-46 victory over Coatesville.

Inconsistent play caused the Knights to lose four of their next six games. In the longest game of junior varsity history, Williamsport downed Reading, 96-94. Curtis Ellison scored 32 points through four overtimes.

In the following league game, Robert Clay canned a pair of foul shots as the Reading boys edged Steelton, 56-55. Three consecutive league losses followed.

Victories over Central Dauphin, Hill School, Central Dauphin East, Steelton, and York closed out the Knights' season.

Henry Merritt and Curtis Ellison paced Red Knight scorers with 313 and 219 points, respectively.

Varsity Wrestling

Head Coach—Mr. R. Michael Bell

Assistant Coach—Mr. H. Peter Homrich

In his new position as head coach for the varsity wrestling squad, Mr. R. Michael Bell and Mr. H. Peter Homrich, his assistant, led the grapplers to a final log of six wins and eight losses in the team's independent competition.

Three Castle seniors earned outstanding recognition during the season. Leading the Knights in wins was Duane Krapf, a senior, with thirteen wins and no losses, followed by Tony Jackson, another senior, with twelve wins and two losses, and Kelvin Witherspoon, the third senior, with ten wins and three losses. Duane Krapf also led in pins with a total of nine. Second in pins was Tony Jackson with six, and tied for third in the same classification were Kelvin Witherspoon, a senior, and James Price, a junior, with five each. In another category, Duane Krapf accumulated most points for the team with sixty-eight.

In sectional action, Duane Krapf and Tony Jackson won their matches which qualified them for district competition.

In District #3 action, Tony Jackson lost in the first round which dropped him from further competition. Duane Krapf won his match, but fell in the second, thus ending his participation for upcoming meets.

Notable achievements of the season were Duane Krapf's undefeated dual meet record of thirteen and zero, plus Tony Jackson's first place and James Price's second place in the Phillipsburg Holiday Tournament.

In addition, members of the team voted Tony Jackson's first place, and James wrestler of the squad, and Kelvin Witherspoon as the most improved matman.

Coach—Mr. James A. Carpousis

Reading High School's mermen opened their 1973-1974 season in the spacious new natatorium on December 7, 1973 with a meet against the Manheim Township High School swimming squad. Hopes for the first victory in the new pool faded as the Knights lost their opener with Manheim 114 to 55.

Although the team as a whole was not able to post a very impressive season, Scott Moll, a senior, provided a brighter note to the situation. In the last meet against Cedar Crest, Scott set a school record with a time of 56.1 in the 100 meter butterfly event. Later in the state meet, he improved his record in the same category with a time of 55.6.

Members of the squad who will not return because of graduation will be Dennis Martin, Earl Pack, George Walker, Kevin Ems, Scott Moll, and Mark Rizzardi.

Underclassmen who showed promise of helping to strengthen next year's team were David Evans, a junior, and Timothy Luigard, a sophomore.

Tennis

Coach—Mr. Leon H. Shultz

Team opponents of the Red Knight net squad were the same as last year. As in the previous season, the Castle netmen faced teams in the Western Berks County Tennis League, namely Muhlenberg, Governor Mifflin, Tulpehocken, Wyomissing, and Wilson. During the past year, the Reading netmen played each opposing team twice—once at home and once away.

Veteran players were Michael Krumholtz, a senior; plus Thomas Saylor, Adam Wilikofsky, Steven Scharfstein, and Mark Kramer, all juniors.

Practices and home matches were played on the asphalt courts of Hampden Park.

On April 30, 1974, three Berks coaches met to prepare the playing order of the participants in the Berks County Singles and Doubles Tournament. Two Reading netmen, Michael Krumholtz and Mark Kramer, won the doubles championship in this tournament held at the Governor Mifflin courts.

Worthy of note is the fact that construction was started on four new tennis courts in the area of the existing ones. Not only will the old courts be resurfaced, but they will also be made larger to comply with regulation size. This will give us a total of eight courts which should be ready for the 1975 season.

With its top two veteran golfers returning, the 1974 Reading High golf team has good chances of improving last year's record. Paul Rahn and Todd Wawrousek, who developed into team leaders in 1973, have the potential to supply the punch for a winning year.

During the season, the Red Knights will face twelve opponents—ten in Berks County League action. Home matches will be held at the Berkshire Country Club.

Two members of the Reading team, Paul Rahn and Todd Wawrousek, played in the Berks County Tournament. By placing in that tournament, Paul Rahn qualified for District III play.

For the second consecutive year, Reading High School's varsity bowlers placed second in the Berks County Bowling League. Muhlenberg High School used an early season point lead to edge the Red Knights in the final standings.

At the end of the season, Reading High School's bowlers earned four of the first five top bowling scores in league competition. Castlemen who had the highest individual averages were Robert Care, first place, with an average of 189.42; Cary Whiteley, third place, with 187.11; Steve Gehring, fourth place, with 185.34, and Chip Rishell, fifth place with an average of 185.18. All were eleventh grade students. Carl Roth, a senior, earned an average of 181.4

New records for the 1973-74 season were Steve Gehring's high individual triple of 693, the high team triple of 3031, and the high team average of 925.34 per game.

Auxiliary Sports Personnel

As a result of the combined services of the administrative, supervisory, and custodial members of the Auxiliary Sports Personnel, Reading High School's interscholastic and intramural athletic programs functioned smoothly and efficiently.

Utilization of the new high school annex for athletic purposes finally became a reality this past school year. Physical education classes began to utilize the new gymnasium on Monday, November 26, 1973, the first varsity basketball game took place on Friday, November 30, 1973, and finally the swimming pool facilities were officially available for use on Tuesday, January 22, 1974 for the Reading-O. J. Roberts swimming meet, and for the student body on Monday, January 28, 1974.

As chairman of the physical education department of Reading High School, Mr. Harrison H. Stump coordinated the numerous activities of the physical education program at the Castle.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Speedball

Sponsor—Miss Billie Snyder

For the first time in the history of Reading High School, speedball was included as one of the intramural sports sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association. This new sport required the use of a combination of football, basketball, and soccer skills.

Twenty-two girls registered for the sport. Games were played during the months of September and October.

Because of the small turnout for these contests throughout the season, the girls used only half of the field for this action-packed sport.

Connie Houck started one of the games with a swift kick to her right forward.

Junior Varsity Coach—Miss Patricia Enzman

This year marked the second year that girls' field hockey was an outstanding girls' sport, and the first year the Castle ladies took part in actual league competition.

Opposing teams on the varsity and junior varsity levels in the Berks County League were Wilson, Governor Mifflin, Muhlenberg, Schuylkill Valley, Tulpehocken, Wyomissing, Conrad Weiser, and Hamburg high schools.

Uniforms for the varsity team consisted of red and black plaid skirts, white blouses, and black knee-length socks.

For the season, the varsity team recorded no win and eleven losses. The junior varsity team had one win, seven losses and three ties.

Sponsor—Miss Cynthia A. Stout

On Tuesdays and Fridays during the months of January and February, five teams of eight girls each participated in intramural volleyball after school in the girls' gym.

As a unique experience, two battles of the sexes resulted from a challenge by the boys to the girls to compete in two matches. Both games were won by the girls.

Table Tennis

Sponsor—Mrs. Rita P. Burkey

Thirty-six girls registered for this lively indoor sport of table tennis. Matches took place every day in the old boys' gym during the first two weeks of November.

To determine the champion, the ladder system of competition was used. This year the tournament consisted of two ladders. Winners of the first and second ladders, respectively, competed for final championship laurels.

In the final playoffs Amy Silverstein, a senior, earned first place position; Maria Gasparis of eleventh grade was runner-up.

Practices were held in the new Reading High School gym Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays during the month of March.

For the most part, the girls participated in the sport for G.A.A. points as well as for enjoyment.

Sandra Melton follows through with a swift return to her opponent.

For the first time in the history of Reading High School, girls' varsity and junior varsity basketball teams were formed. Although both groups did not compete on independent schedules, plans have been made to have the teams participate in the Western Division of the East Penn League next year.

Girls' Varsity and Junior Varsity Bowling

Couch—Mrs. Rita P. Burkey

This year marked the second season bowling was a varsity girls' sport. As in the previous year, the Castle bowlers participated in the Berks County Bowling League which included teams from nearby high schools, namely Exeter, Twin Valley, Hamburg, Schuylkill Valley, Governor Mifflin, Wilson, Mt. Penn, and Muhlenberg.

League games were played on Mondays and Thursday during the months of January and February. Home games were played at Hiester's Lanes.

By posting a record of fifteen wins and one loss, the team earned their second consecutive league championship.

Girls' Varsity Tennis

Coach—Miss Cynthia A. Stout

This year marked the third season for girls' varsity tennis, and the first year in Berks Girls' Tennis League competition. In league action, the Castle ladies succeeded in registering an unbeaten season of 13-0 to capture the net title.

Coach Cynthia Stout's team won the West title with a 12-0 mark that included a previous 6-1 triumph over Exeter, the East victor with a 9-2 record. In the second encounter with Exeter, the Castle ladies defeated the Eaglettes 5-2 for the Berks County Tennis League crown. Last year Wilson High School won the championship.

Catherine Feil of the eleventh grade was the best player in a recent tournament.

Intramural Basketball

Sponsor Miss Patricia Enzman

As a result of the increased facilities made possible in the new field house, the Girls' Athletic Association was able to sponsor basketball as an additional intramural sport

Six teams were formed, namely Seniors One, Seniors Two, The Buzzards, Hot Stuff, The Seventy-Four Scorers, and The Seventy-Sixers.

Although the girls did not compete for championship honors, they were able to earn individual points toward their athletic awards

Intramural Tennis

Sponsor—Miss Cynthia A. Stout

Practices were held after school on the asphalt courts in Hampden Park during the months of September and October

Basically, the girls played for the enjoyment of the sport rather than for title laurels.

Archery

Sponsor—Mrs. Rita P. Burkey

For twenty-five years, archery has been a popular activity at Reading Senior High School. Although enrollment has tapered off from previous years, competitive spirit among participants remained high.

Mrs. Rita P. Burkey filled the coaching post left vacant by the retirement of Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman in 1973.

Because of the great demand for the outside athletic fields for other sports, archery practices were held in the old gym.

Homecoming Queen Review

Girls representing sixteen chartered clubs of Reading High School participated in the third annual Homecoming Queen contest sponsored by Key Club.

Mrs. Carole E. Bohn served as coordinator for the contest, and Key Club under the supervision of Mr. Ronald L. Spickler, sponsored the event.

Candidates were first shown to the community on the school's television program "Knight Life". Later, pictures of the contestants were displayed in the lobby showcases.

Selection of the queen was by popular vote. Five of the sixteen girls who received the highest number of votes became the semi-finalists. From this group, the queen and runner-up were chosen by a final vote of the student body.

Student suspense mounted daily until October 19, 1973, when the announcements of the newly-elected queen and runner-up were made during the half-time of the Reading-Neshamity football game at Albright Stadium.

Finally, it was revealed that Joanne Chelius won the title of Homecoming Queen, and Robin Smith, the runner-up honors.

Arsenic and Old Lace

It's back and better than ever! After a lapse of twenty-one years, another smashing student-faculty play was presented on Reading High School's stage—"Arsenic and Old Lace."

This play marked the rebirth of this type of dramatic productions which formally ended with "The Ghost Train" in 1952

Proceeds from this year's play were placed in a special scholarship fund for four college-bound seniors.

Arsenic and Old Lace

Abby and Martha Brewster have an extraordinary hobby. They kill lonely men with arsenic and elderberry wine, then pass the men off as yellow fever victims.

Tonight, the Brewsters are entertaining Rev. Harper. The Brewsters' nephew, Teddy, thinks he's Teddy Roosevelt—he even "charges" up the stairs, and digs the Panama Canal locks in the cellar for the fever victims.

Realizing that something strange is going on, Mortimer Brewster figures out the spinsters' pastime. He tries to talk them into committing themselves to an institution, but can't convince them.

Arsenic and Old Lace

Because he feels he is touched by the "Brewster madness", Mortimer tries to break off his engagement to Elaine Harper. Unfortunately, he must leave Elaine and the sisters when a pressing engagement comes up.

Out of the blue, another cousin, Jonathan, arrives. Unknown to all but the audience, he and Dr. Einstein, an accomplice, are international criminals and have brought home a "friend".

Teddy and Dr. Einstein get into a very deep conversation, in which Teddy tells the doctor about the locks.

Arsenic and Old Lace

Einstein figures that the locks are the perfect place for the "friend". So, he puts the friend into the window-seat, and Teddy buries him.

Jonathan keeps the spinsters from discovering his "friend" by threatening them to stay upstairs. However, they have another victim to be buried, and try to get by Jonathan.

Mortimer comes home and finds out Jonathan's secret. Jonathan ties and gags Mortimer, planning to torture, and later to kill him to keep him quiet.

Officer O'Hara to the rescue! But first, a recitation by the playwright of his new creation to Mortimer—complete with gestures

Arsenic and Old Lace

Finally, the recital is over, Mortimer is freed, and Jonathan is arrested by Officers Brophy and Klein.

To keep the law from arresting his relatives, Mortimer finally convinces Abby and Martha to go with Mr. Witherspoon, who has come to take Teddy away.

Realizing that Mortimer is right, Abby and Martha agree to go. But first, one last glass of wine . . . Guess what happened next?

Oklahoma

"Oh, what a beautiful morning..."

Kansas City Dance

"Oh, what a beautiful day..."

"Looka here, fellas... I bought a present for Ado Annie's pa."

Curley makes a decision.

Oklahoma

"I got just the thing for you...a genuine Persian garter"

"Which one do you like the best, Ado Annie?"

"Come on fellas . . . let's get those hampers under the shade"

Never have I once looked back to sigh over the romance behind me

Oklahoma

'He called me his Person Kitten'

'It's a scandal . . . it's an outrage . .

"And the women will moan and groan . . . over "pore" Jud Fry."

" I sit by myself in a lonely room."

Oklahoma

Girls . . . can you go somewhere else to tell fortunes?

Out of my dreams . . .

And into a world I'll go with you."

I'd like to say a word "fer" the farmer

Oklahoma

"The farmer and the cowman should be friends"

"Bid 'em up."

A three day belly-ache

"My Jud . . . you're a stubborn man."

Oklahoma

"That makes fifty dollars"

"This is for our weddin' night"

"All 'er nothin'."

An Oklahoma hello!

Oklahoma

"Ado Annie, where've you been?"

"People will say we're in love!"

Flicks of Humor

Band-Aides

Students, concerned parents, and friends who were interested in rendering their services and financial support to the Reading High Marching Band were known as the Band-Aides.

Fund-raising activities in the fall included a Charity Bazaar in the Berkshire Mall, and the selling of food at the Fireman's Parade.

In the winter, the group sponsored a Fashion Show at Boscov's East. Spring activities were highlighted by a Block Party and the Stan Kenton Concert.

Climaxing the eventful year was a banquet held on June 5, 1974.

Officers

Mrs. Barbara Angstadt, treasurer; Mrs. Barbara Rader, secretary;
Mr. Richard Baker, president; Mrs. Jean Bowman, vice president

Boosters' Club

In an effort to encourage community interest for the Castle's athletic program, the Boosters' Club, an organization of sports-minded adults, sponsored various activities to stimulate support for Reading High School sports.

As one of its special projects, the organization offered to a Castle senior a scholarship of $250.00 per year for a period of four years.

Officers

Mr. Bud Haring, secretary; Mr. James Simmons, president; Mr. Irvin Grouse, treasurer; Absent—Mr. Albert Landis, vice president
